Recent Changes to the Recruitment Process

Other sources of information

Please read this guidance in conjunction with the Dental Recruitment Applicant Handbook available via here - <https://www.oriel.nhs.uk/Web/ResourceBank>.

Recruitment System

2021 national recruitment will be delivered using a new version of Oriel. Oriel can be accessed via the following link: <https://www.oriel.nhs.uk/Web/Home>. If you have previously registered on the old version of Oriel, please be aware that you will need to re-register before you can start your application.

Mono-Specialties

For the September 2021 intake, posts in Mono-Specialties may be recruited to alongside posts in Restorative Dentistry. If there are clinical posts in Endodontics, Periodontics or Prosthodontics, you will be able to preference these posts alongside/instead of Restorative Dentistry. There is no separate application or selection process for Mono-Specialties so if you are eligible and later appointable for Restorative Dentistry, you will also be eligible for Mono-Specialties.

Covid - 19

For the September 2021 intake the recruitment process has been revised so that it can be delivered despite ongoing uncertainty linked to Covid-19. The main changes to the process are highlighted below.

Contingency Plans

Recruitment for posts starting from September 2021 will go ahead even in the event that there is a significant new peak of the pandemic.

Following wide consultation with trainees, recruitment teams, statutory education bodies and the Royal Colleges, a number of general principles have been developed that all specialties will follow for selection. You can read about the general principles here – <https://www.oriel.nhs.uk/Web/ResourceBank>.

In terms of contingency plans for this specialty, please note:

Plan A – This guide sets out in detail our Plan A for September 2021 recruitment.

Health Education England

Plan B – In the event there was a significant new peak of the pandemic which affects clinician or trainee availability or the availability of administrative support, we would consider moving to our Plan B. There would be discussion between key stakeholders before a decision was taken to move to Plan B. If we move to Plan B, all applicants still in the process will be contacted to explain that we have moved to Plan B and they would be given updated timeframes for recruitment stages, if applicable.

The agreed Plan B for Restorative Dentistry and Mono-Specialties would be to use verified self-assessment score plus an online interview carried out by one panel member rather than two.

We will also provide clinical benchmarking for academic applicants (NIHR Academic Clinical Fellows, NIHR Academic Clinical Lecturers and traditional academics).

Verified self-assessment scores will be used to shortlist applicants for online interview. Verified scores will be shared with applicants prior to shortlisting being finalised.
