Welcome to Wigan

Thank you for considering a training placement with Wigan's Public Health team. Wigan Council is an amazing place to work - full of positive, accountable, courageous, and kind people. This is such an exciting time to join us.

Ten years on from re-imagining public service, Wigan Council has taken the opportunity to reflect on our philosophy and strategic intent to ensure we support our residents and communities through the specific challenges and opportunities of this coming decade.

The outcome is a new co-produced movement for change, 'Progress with Unity', which will be delivered as a borough-wide partnership. At the heart of this are two key missions focusing on addressing inequalities and helping our towns and neighbourhoods to flourish.

The council will support these missions with a stronger appetite than ever for radical reform with a renewed commitment to neighbourhood working, deeper community engagement and co-production, investment in our workforce and digital transformation.

A really important part of this journey has been the contribution of the public health team, who have ensured the focus on public health is embedded and integrated in the work we do across the Council and wider partnership. Wigan's new Health and Wellbeing Strategy 'Creating Health' sets out our shared ambition for health and wellbeing with a renewed focus on the wider factors that influence health, building and strengthening place-based preventative approaches to address health inequalities.

We're now seeing new challenges facing our residents, which will give renewed emphasis to some aspects of our public health work while reaffirming other priorities for action. This is reflected in the broader Progress with Unity ambitions for Wigan which put tackling inequalities and creating opportunities to maximise wellbeing at the heart of everything we do as a place partnership.

You'll be joining a team where we work collaboratively and supportively to get things done, an organisation which has strong political and managerial leadership and real ambition to improve health outcomes for residents. We were shortlisted for UKPHR employer of the year 2024, and are advocates for continued professional development. Training with us will enable you to enhance your public health career whilst making a real difference to our residents.

If you have any questions about the experience we can provide or want to chat to one of our current registrars, please don't hesitate to email Laura Wharton, Assistant Director Public Health on l.wharton1@wigan.gov.uk

Meet our current registrars

Charlie and Megan joined the Wigan public health team as Speciality Trainees in August 2023. Here is what they have to say about their experiences to date.

I've been working in Wigan Borough for my ST1 and ST2 years, and have found it a rich and rewarding experience. I was able to jump straight into a Joint Strategic Needs Assessment project and, supported by the team, delivered a report to the Health and Wellbeing Board within my first few months.

Working here, I've had the opportunity to shadow projects across the Public Health portfolio, which has allowed me to gain loads of knowledge. When I started, my Educational Supervisor and the team put together a diverse range of induction activities which gave me a great overview of the work, while also being a chance to get to know people. A highlight was a visit to a summer holiday activity camp in Leigh in my first week, which definitely helped me start to understand the population I am working for.

In my ST2 year, I've taken on more senior projects working to improve respiratory health in the community, and coordinating an Alcohol Health Needs Assessment. I've also had opportunities to present at our journal club, and mentor a foundation doctor on placement here. Wigan Borough is a complex place with a lot of public health needs, but the team here is incredibly welcoming and we take a strengths-based approach to try to create a better borough.

Charlie Steer ST2

I have been in Wigan since the beginning of my ST1 year. Since I first started, the team have been welcoming and approachable and I feel like a valued member of the public health team. During my ST1 year, the placement was accommodating of the demands of the MPH. Since starting ST2, I have been provided with opportunities across a diverse range of projects on topics including diabetes, cancer screening, and infection prevention and control. This has supported me to gain exposure and experience across the breadth of public health, and develop a diverse set of public health skills. There have also been opportunities to deliver teaching to clinical trainees and students at Edge Hill University, and develop leadership and management skills through the mentorship of foundation doctors on placement in Wigan Council. The public health team also hosts a journal club every month, which provides a great opportunity to improve academic skills. Overall, Wigan is an enjoyable place to work, and my projects have been appropriately challenging, meaningful and relevant to my training.
